I'm a digital designer and WordPress front-end developer with a background in the food industry. My expertise lies in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and various CMS platforms, enabling me to create engaging user experiences. Inspired by the vibrant colors and natural beauty of Cape Town, South Africa, I infuse creativity into every project. Currently, I'm expanding my skill set by learning PHP to enhance my development capabilities. Outside of work, I find inspiration in hiking and the outdoors, which fuels my creative process.
